

Untitled

By: Jeff B.

They say the Gift of God is all you need
They say a breath from Jesus will set you free
I feel the Lord in my heart so I know he's real
And even though this world is concealed with sin
And full of pain that runs deep in my veins
Like hot steel dripping on my brain
That's why I keep the sword that's the book of the Lord in my hand
Ephesians 5:6 says let no man deceive me with vain words
For because of this comes the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience
I know it's an inconvenience not many people can see it
God said I'll be there when you need me even though you can't see me
You gotta have faith in God and faith in your brother
We can all spread the word like bread on butter
I wish God would fill all our hearts with love
Help feed the needy and tell the rich stop being greedy
You see my life as a demonstration
I see it as a determination, something like a special creation
He says its all for a purpose
But it's like everything's starting to surface
Is God coming soon?
I'll never know
I just pray, till the day I go, that everybody will come with me