

Never Return

By: Jessy B.

Take away the promises
Take away the truths
No longer is there a use
Take away the pain
Take away the lies
No longer will I close my eyes
Take away the love
Take away myself
We're all going away
Take away the hatred
Take away the belief
There is no such relief
Don't give me promises when I no longer breathe
Don't give me truths that I cannot believe
Don't give me pain it takes too much time
Don't give me lies they only sound good in rhyme
Don't give me love it can help me no longer
Don't give me myself I will grow no stronger
Don't give me hatred it can never go astray
Don't give me belief it's never there to stay
And when you can no longer give and take away
And I'm alone in the caverns of death's demented play
Know that it is over I will never return
Know that it is over I will always burn
For all the beliefs I've lost
For all the hatred I've given
For all myself it's cost
For all the love it's driven
For all the lies I've told
For all the pain delivered
For all the truths I hold
For all the promises withered
Because of my decisions my mind isn't mine at all
This is why I will forever fall
Into the eminent darkness of hell
Where all these demons will always dwell
